He studied under Virgilio Marone and Luciano Castellani; from 1852 he belonged to the Scuola di belle Arti. He died in his birthplace in 1883. Pallavicini's works include statues and busts, the major works including allegorical figures for the Cathedral of Parma. Amongst his other works are The Baptism of Christ (1856–1861) in the Parma Cathedral, St Joseph (1857), the seated Neptune of the same cathedral (1866) and Il Giorno (1876) - one of a group of statues representing the principal events of the year at the entrance of the Parma Civic Gallery. I have created an XML document with the save function of a JavaFX application. When that same file is saved, it does have the correct file extension. I have tried saving the file in two different ways. I am using the following code, and this is the result I am seeing: File file = getClass().getResource("myResourceName.XML").getFile(); FileOutputStream fos = new FileOutputStream(file); fos.write(FileHelper.getFromFileStream(myStream)); fos.close(); File file1 = getClass().getResource("myResourceName.XML").getFile(); FileOutputStream fos = new FileOutputStream(file); fos.write(FileHelper.getFromFileStream(myStream)); fos.close(); However, the file I am generating, when I use getClass().getResource("myResourceName.XML").getFile(), is /res/raw/myResourceName.
