The Cisco Systems Unify 8 Solution for IP Telephony expands the capabilities of IP communications by providing users with a flexible scalability model and ease of installation and configuration. This software is a full-featured version of Cisco Telepresence Manager that has been enhanced to meet business needs. Companies using voice communications applications can use this software to improve operational efficiency and project integration of IP telecom applications with traditional IP infrastructure or the Internet™. A single process for preparing and using "packaged" voice applications, including those with HD Voice functionality, simplifies data network configuration. Management of voice applications in the case of integration of the IP-sending system allows you to provide convenient working conditions for all participants in the process. Manage Files and Folders in the Unify Environment:

- Version Control Centers for Backup and Restore
- "Unify" Smart Permissions for All Key Access to Files and Folders
- Permission Negotiation Management for Users
- Sharing Data Stores and Files
- Flexible file and folder locking capabilities
- Information Management
