Determination of phenylethylamine, catechol, and dimethylamine from urine. A method has been developed for determination of phenylethylamine (PEA), catechol (CA), and dimethylamine (DMA) in urine. All three compounds were converted to quinine sulfate as their stable hydroxylamine derivatives. Reduction of the quinine sulfate was followed by colorimetric determination of the parent amine. The method, which involves microwave irradiation for sample treatment, has been tested on urine samples. The values obtained for the three amines are in good agreement with those determined by reference methods (PA, HPLC) and with urinary polyamine concentrations determined by GC/MS.
