Omron is the only automation software provider that employs an online AutoUpdate system, allowing users to easily download and install updates for FREE.Q: Why do multiple receivers cause signal gain? Source When I connect my GPS receiver to the input of my audio amplifier, the amp has some noticeable gain. I've tested it both using two separate receivers and directly connecting the antenna cables. It appears that adding multiple receivers to the process causes even more gain to the signal. Why is this? And what is the "correct" way to add gain to a signal? An example of when you may want to use amplification in your preamp circuit: A: Whenever you have gain, there is some natural attenuation in the circuit as well. When you amplify a voltage, such as an audio signal, it's signal vs noise ratio is reduced, and therefore the noise figure is increased. If you have multiple sources of noise, such as multiple radios,
