Manual - Instructors: Jonathan Schur, Jason Schur. Windows 8 Pro, Windows 10 (not supported by AutomaticUpdater. Windows 8 Pro or Windows 10.Q: Pairwise subtraction of numbers between 2 different tables I have 2 tables. Table1 has two columns - PeriodID, and PeriodName. Table 2 has PeriodID, and PeriodValue. I need to subtract the PeriodValue from PeriodName and store the result in PeriodName column in Table1. I have tried to use below, but it gives an error. INSERT INTO [Table1] ([PeriodID], [PeriodName]) SELECT [PeriodID], (SELECT [PeriodValue] FROM [Table2] WHERE [PeriodID] = [Table1].PeriodID) FROM [Table1] So, how can I do this without any issues? A: Assuming you are using SQL Server, this should do the trick: insert into [Table1] ([PeriodID], [PeriodName]) select t1.[PeriodID], (select [PeriodValue] from [Table2] where t1.[PeriodID] = [Table2].PeriodID) from [Table1] t1 inner join [Table2] t2 on t1.[PeriodID] = t2.[PeriodID]; But, you can also do it without sub-queries like this: insert into [Table1] ([PeriodID], [PeriodName]) select t1.[PeriodID], [PeriodValue] - t2.[PeriodValue] from [Table1] t1 inner join [Table2] t2 on t1.[PeriodID] = t2.[PeriodID]; See SQL Fiddle with Demo. Both give the following result: | PERIODID | PERIODNAME | PERIODVALUE | ----- | 1 | 1 | 1 | | 1 | 2 | 2 | |
