About

Fifa 22 Features Key:

- HyperMotion Technology uses motion capture data from 22 real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits
- Become a manager and take charge of your own team, or guide a club from the bottom to the top
- I like using named tackles now. The system, for example, allows you to start to player with a 2-1-1-2 pressing system. For example, you can win the ball off a defender and press once with the midfielder and then a defender and press once and then run with the full back and press for the possession
- More ways to make plays
- I was playing with Brazilian full backs that had every foot and then I had the option to change to them. Apart from that being great to watch, it was fun to play like a real physical player that wins all your 50-50s and pushes forward with the other forwards
- More skill moves. If you want to strike with certainty, then you can now use the new Cat Eye There, just look at the player and then strafe to the space you need to shoot, and players can also carry the ball up the pitch
- Ability shot continuity. This feature will allow your player to shoot after you completed the shot with the appropriate control

- The new control spacing system allows for players to transition the ball from one player to another more smoothly
- New controls. The D-pad can now also be used for steering the ball
- You can now control the direction of the shot by pressing both the right and left stick but sometimes if you accidentally press one stick, just quickly press the other
- No longer can players switch their position after you have played the ball
