Lexus Locklear But the future of Debbie Does Dallas may lie in the hands of the 90s new crop of young women, who may not be old enough to remember the original, but are now old enough to have seen the original a couple of times, own a Playgirl and caught the original on late night cable. In fact, the new Debbie Does Dallas may be their only sex education. And, by all accounts, the women have done well for themselves. We're big fans of the idea of practicing yoga to relieve stress and are excited to announce that we're partnering with a company that is definitely on that wave of modern mindfulness...and who have also experimented with clinical interventions with PTSD. We were really impressed by how Psychedelic Solution's SHED Filter helped 5 folks (including us!) feel less anxious and experience a deeper meditation. But we got to thinking...could this be universal? Could just about anyone use a psychological tool to see how their brain and emotions are reacting to their current situation? ... Read more The world of fitness is different than it has ever been. New rules of fitness have been set and used by most athletic teams around the world. One of the recent changes that occurred was that high school athletes began to get an extra hour of training per day, which is something that has been happening for some time in college. This has led to the boom in late night / early morning training. Don't get me wrong, I've been there and done that. Many great athletes have had an edge that came from being up late in the night. The late night and early morning training is what allows them to work on their focus, decision making and mechanics while they are still in bed. But for almost all the good athletes I've trained with, they have not had the advantage of sleeping late into the morning or working out as early in the morning. For those who don't have this advantage, they are forced to train early in the day d0c515b9f4
