Free Download MegaQ: What happened to the library reference for using OrmLiteDaoSupport in Room? My understanding is that Added a new annotation @Target(AnnotationTarget.FUNCTION, AnnotationTarget.PROPERTY) to Room @Database annotation Added a new annotation @Database (Database) to Room @Database annotation Now, you can specify a reference to the OrmLiteDaoSupport library and and it will provide the DaoSupport.createDao() method that is needed by Room and all your @Database annotated Dao classes The code snippet is as follows: @Database(entities = {User.class}, version = 1, exportStrategy = SQLiteOpenHelper.CALLCONV_VERSION) abstract class UserDao : OrmLiteDaoSupport(UserDao.DaoSupport) { @Autowired lateinit var repository: UserRepository //... @Query("SELECT * FROM User") fun findAll(): Iterable } That's all fine, but I noticed that the latest (1.0.0-beta01) version of the library didn't contain such code and so I added the dependency on the OrmLiteDaoSupport. @Database(entities = {User.class}, version = 1, exportStrategy = SQLiteOpenHelper.CALLCONV_VERSION) abstract class

UserDao : OrmLiteDaoSupport(UserDao.DaoSupport) { @Autowired lateinit var repository: UserRepository //...
 @Query("SELECT * FROM User") fun findAll(): Iterable } But it seems that this way of using an OrmLite library is not longer supported. The documentation does not say how to resolve these issues. A: I finally found the answer in the release notes:
 Added new Database module that ships the OrmLite4DaoDatabaseConverter (OrmLiteDaoSupport)
