Q: How to prevent user from changing original image of photo in Android MediaStore? I have an application which allows to take a photo and edit it (after taking it of course). Now I am facing a problem. I want to prevent user to change/overwrite the original image stored in media gallery. The original image is the one I've taken. If it is possible to override the original image and load edited image only to my app's cache? I was not able to do it until now. If someone know what is the best way to do it, please help me. Thanks, A: I am not sure whether it will be what you want but you can use

ContentResolver to do what you are trying to achieve. Simply add a content URI to the Uri and that will be what you see in your gallery. And what you will see is the "edited image" only. I would recommend not to take original photo or some other thing over gallery. To do so read this this article and this one. Q: add id property to selected checkboxes i have a treeview with checkboxes. The goal is to get a check for those that are checked when i click a button. as you can see below: The model and the class definition: public partial class Models { public string name { get; set; } } public class Models { public int id { get; set; } public string name { get; set; } public IEnumerable children { get; set; } } My viewmodel: public class Viewmodel { public IEnumerable models { get; set; } } View: @using Models @model Viewmodel @Html.DisplayNameFor(model => model.models) @foreach (var item in Model.models) { var id = item.id;
