If you are not satisfied with the speed at which you download or upload information, in the form of email, pictures, etc, SpeedoMeter

Cracked Accounts will let you know if you are about to hit your monthly bandwidth limit. First, you will be prompted to install Yahoo!

Widget Engine. This is a free widget engine that lets you build your own widgets, and is an app that can be installed on your computer. Once it is installed, you must visit the `Manage Widgets` page. Click on the `Add a new widget` button. Next, you will be prompted to choose a widget from the page, in order to download it.

Once the download is done, the widget will be installed in the Widget Engine directory. You will be prompted to find the settings of the widget. To do so, click on the link available next to the widget in the widget engine window. You will be prompted to enter a key (this is for security purposes) and to set the widget to be permanent. This means that if you want to set this widget to be permanent, you can deactivate the widget, and it will keep its settings; or you can activate it again, and it will keep its settings. The widget will show the speed of the user's download and upload, and will notify him/her of the possible risk of exceeding the monthly bandwidth limit, in the form of a small window. The settings for the widget are: Mode: You can choose between two modes. In one mode the widget will display the current speed of download and upload. In the other mode, it will only display the current speed of download or upload, and will automatically update every 30 seconds. Update interval: This section allows you to adjust the speed of the widget to be up to date every `n` number of seconds (such as every minute, or every 5 minutes). Span size: The span size of the widget is adjustable; you can choose between 15, 30, 60, and 120 seconds. You must choose one of the above four settings, or the speed cannot be updated. Opacity level: The opacity of the window will be defined according to the size of the span. A smaller span means a bigger opacity, and a bigger span means a smaller opacity. Alignment: Users can choose whether the text of the widget appears on top, or bottom, of the icon displaying the speed of the user's download or upload. In addition to the above b7e8fdf5c8

8.37 MB Screenshots for SpeedoMeter SpeedoMeter Publisher's Description Yahoo! Widget Engine was created to offer users the chance to use numerous apps to meet their precise computing needs, without worrying about RAM or CPU usage levels. Such a handy widget is SpeedoMeter, meant to monitor bandwidth usage. SpeedoMeter can be quickly set up on any computer where Yahoo! Widget Engine is already installed (otherwise, the widget cannot be used until the platform is installed) and it displays a tiny window where the download and upload speed values are constantly updated. Unlike other similar tools, SpeedoMeter comes with an analog representation of data, and makes the host PC seem old-fashioned and vintage-looking, adding a touch of style to the desktop. Also, those who are not satisfied with the default coloring can modify the text color and font type so that the widget integrates smoothly within the OS theme. The Settings section of SpeedoMeter can be accessed whenever users want to adjust the update interval and span size used within the main window of the widget. The opacity level of SpeedoMeter can be changed as well, and users can set the widget to stay on top of all the running apps, at all times. In addition, SpeedoMeter can also be used to restrict the maximum download and upload speeds to help users make sure they do not exceed their monthly limit. In a nutshell, SpeedoMeter is a Yahoo! widget that can meet the bandwidth monitoring needs of any user, without needing to rely on complex or costly software.
