Players race to solve the mystery of a missing starship crew and the strange alien device they have found on board. They explore the decks of their ship, open air hatches and enter different areas - using modern day technology to try and work out how to crack the alien code. They'll slowly uncover more of the story as they progress, unveiling documents and videos that tell a tale of a missing crew, a terrorist attack and the possible location of a hidden alien artefact. Keywords: EGPX, escape room, puzzle, sci-fi, true true belief Never before has escape room gaming been so much fun! Your quest begins as you wake up in an abandoned spaceship. You are the sole survivor of a crew that has mysteriously vanished. You now have to piece together the mystery of your past and find a way to escape with your life. Played out in stunning 3D environments, The Artifact is a sci-fi themed spin on the classic escape the room game. Players explore different locations, using 21st century technology to crack codes and solving increasingly head scratching puzzles that will help decipher the mystery of the alien device, and perhaps what lies beyond. The Artifact is a unique and immersive escape the room game. Features include:- - Beautiful 3D environments – explore the decks of your star cruiser, breaking open air hatches and exploring different areas... - Head-scratching puzzles – use logic and experimentation to figure out how to break into the alien artefact... - Immersive story – explore the ship for notes and documents that reveal the mystery of the missing crew. And why you’ve been left behind... About This Game: Players race to solve the mystery of a missing starship crew and the strange alien device they have found on board. The original Half-Life blasted onto PC screens on April 5, 1998, setting the benchmark for the role-playing game genre. In the years since Half-Life's award-winning debut, players have continued to enjoy the game's unique blend of first-person shooter and role-playing game elements. Now, get ready to enter the brilliant world of Half-Life—you have been chosen to be the next Gravity Suit-wearing hero. Featuring the same award-winning gameplay you enjoyed in Half-Life, Half-Life: Blue Shift brings the Second World War back to life. Step into the shoes of resistance fighter Dr. James A. Gordon as he plays a crucial role in the battle against an evil Nazi cyborg. Play through the events of the game as Gordon, immersing yourself in the complex story with the thrill of fully cooperative gameplay. Continue the adventure and experience the action as a co-op Half-Life 2 multi-player experience with up to four players on one keyboard! The war has begun. The forces of science and industry have declared total war on the Brotherhood of Nod. They will be routed, and the nuclear weapons they have dedicated their lives to building must be destroyed. Your task, as the last surviving member of a squad of elite Guardians, is to eliminate Nod from existence once and for all. The destruction of Nod is the only way to prevent a global nuclear disaster. Will you deliver the last blow to the Brotherhood's last bastion? Are you prepared

What's new in Twin Edge:

Thursday, June 23, 2016 Star Spangled and Battlestar-ish Ideas. No one can laugh or smile at her feet, and not laugh or smile in a disguise. ~Francis Thompson, "Hertha" "He walked at my own pace, And that is the way to die!.. I drew air in by the nostril, and drew it out again by my throat. The rest was like the blowing of wind or the blowing of breath. In that way I breathed. I lived. I dissolved...and became the dark and light. And there was the bell-flower on the ground, and the soft things of the flesh, and the crawling of my feet upon the grass. And his shadow fled behind me, in the shadow of the trees. And the shadow sighed. And fell back." ~William Faulkner, "The Bear" I sometimes look out at the night sky and, after a few moments looking, I am grabbed by an understanding. That if I miss out on this now, in all its beauty, it will never, ever again, be the same. And so I must look. I must look. I must look. What's wrong with me? I wanted to get the first thing out and I just didn't get it. Oh well, you learn as you go. So many out there who write beautifully. So many, so little time, so little money, so little recognition. Tonight I had such an idea. It came in the form of a poem, right from the heart. It inspired me and let me know, I not only write poetry, it is life itself. Below are my rough draft words. I stayed up many hours last night trying to decide what was best. What would make the next poem best? A tragedy? A love story? That is where it started. A love story is a free thought. Never thought I would write one but it was so beautiful, so much better than I thought I could create. And it came from the heart. I never loved anyone like I did this person. Couldn't sleep before I wrote it out. I can't tell you how flattered I am. I think I may have captured something of who they are and give them back, a wonderful sense of life. A sense of living. And there is so much more of this person in me than the stalker
