This does not include movies that were released before 2009. You asked for it: 3D printable books and products. To put this in perspective, last year Americans spent $4 billion on subscriptions - and that's just for Netflix. That's a $3.6 billion decline in six months. With Netflix accounting for half of that, it's a pretty sizeable chunk. It's good to see people talking about Netflix breaking its own records - that's what the analysts call a healthy sign. But for many, they are looking to next year for big changes. To put this in perspective, last year Americans spent $4 billion on subscriptions - and that's just for Netflix. As far as I know, this total does not include Netflix's mobile apps, which makes up a large chunk of their mobile subscribership. But for many, they are looking to next year for big changes. To put this in perspective, last year Americans spent $4 billion on subscriptions - and that's just for Netflix. That's a $3.6 billion decline in six months. With Netflix accounting for half of that, it's a pretty sizeable chunk. That's the point - people are ready to do a lot more and they are looking for a reason to do so, and Netflix is doing quite nicely. Imagine then, if for every dollar you spent on Netflix you could get two dollars back in savings for groceries or utilities or vacations. In terms of your entertainment budget - it is a pretty good deal. The average user on Netflix spends about $37 per month. To put this in perspective, last year Americans spent $4 billion on subscriptions - and that's just for Netflix. That's a $3.6 billion decline in six
