Now, head motion such as scanning, sidestepping, and controlling your movement around the pitch are also transferred to the AI. For example, the Scanner Motion Pack comes with four different scanning animations and improved depth perception, and the base-motion animations add a more dynamic and fluid feel to your attacks and sideways sprints. This new technology translates to even more realistic player and ball movement, dynamic runs and space-time awareness that help the game feel more intuitive and reactive on the pitch. Also, run-and-gun tactics are now more viable thanks to the brand-new offensive/defensive tactics system, which allows you to select your preferred counter-attack style and react to opposing opposition moves with the Manual Free Kick Tactic. When switching between attacking and defensive tactics, the game immediately begins playing like a high-tempo, high-risk, fast-paced football match. As a result, you can spend even more time strategizing how to outwit your opponents, choosing your offensive tactics in each scenario. On top of all the new additions, FIFA 22 retains all the improvements made to the ball physics for better balancing this year's gameplay. As a result, players are now stronger on the ball while attempting to kick and spin it, and the ball will feel more unpredictable when passed, hit and shot. This year's game also introduces a series of unrivalled new ball physics patterns, including "rainbow ball" and "wedge" patterns, to make the feel of the ball feel closer to that of the real thing.

New Features - New physics, new tactics, new players

Improved Coaching experience - FIFA's new coaching model allows you to quickly and efficiently build your squad from your favourite clubs. Watch your squad develop and progress through the youth system, customize your tactics and formations, and take your team to the top of the game.

New Football AI - The AI is more intelligent, more reactive, more adaptive in its play and reacts to the match situation. The new AI system helps the game play more like a realistic match by reacting to the tactics played by both teams and their opponents. This new AI brings a whole new level of football to the game.

Matchday presentation - Live the matchday experience with this year's matchday presentation. Experience the new game-day atmosphere with up-to-the-minute information from your club's match
