If it is the truth, it's an amazing statement. And I say this with all due respect. He should be commended for his forthrightness because if it's not true, the consequences will be horrendous for him, for his family, and for the Department of Justice. But he's taken the oath of a United States Senator -- a sworn oath -- he swore under the Constitution, he swore under the law, and he swore on a Bible, and there is no statement in that Bible that contradicts his statement that he did not know that a campaign law was being broken. And to come and say, "Well, you know what? You just misinterpreted that, and I know what this Bible says, and here's what it says --" Now, Congressman, come clean. Come clean, Congresswoman. Don't go back and try to tell us what we should think. For the record, I have indeed read the letter, and I did not mischaracterize anything. And in fact, the very first paragraph is a quote from Page 3 of the Bible, in which you have the very words that you're reading. So again, let me be clear: I do not believe that
