For example, Submit When I focus on input, add class input-focus. I made script for this. But I do not know how to do this. `document.querySelector('.login-form input').addEventListener('focus', function(event) { event.target.className += 'input-focus'; });` A: You just need to add a class to the button and add a CSS rule to change the color of the input (if you don't want to use JavaScript). Here is a complete example: `document.querySelector('.login-form button').classList.add('button'); .login-form input { border: 1px solid #333; color: #fff; } .login-form input-focus { border-color: #0d0; color: #0d0; }` Submit A comparative study of the fitting properties of a new implant-supported fixed partial denture design and the original Millenium. This study evaluated the precision of replication with different materials and evaluated the fracture-loading properties of the standard and modified Tissue-Milled implant abutment screws provided by Nobel Biocare and the new non-threaded screws provided by Alphadent.
